High Gloss Thermofoil Almost Here!

A wise man once said:

"The needs of the many outweigh the needs of the few, or the one."

Okay, it may have been Spock from Star Trek who said it, but it still sounds logical to us. And one thing we know for sure is that the need for many of You is a High Gloss White Thermofoil.

Coming this May, M and J Woodcrafts will be releasing their HG Vinyl to the market, with the same quality and attention to detail you've grown accustomed to in all of our Thermofoil offerings.

We know there are plenty of high gloss laminates and acrylics out there, but all of them require edge-banding. HG Vinyl gives you a seamless High-End look at an Affordable price. The vinyl is available by the foot, and at 0.020" thick it handles a lot like a laminate, so no need to worry about exposed gables. You'll have Customers glad they could upgrade without breaking the bank. Pre-order your sample today!

Allure Collection Update

As the High Gloss Thermofoil comes into our standard offerings, our current Allure Collection will be phased out. The whites and solid colours will be discontinued, however we will keep the woodgrains on as long as demand remains.

Effective May 12th the Allure Collection will be reduced to Chocolate Pear, Hard Rock EM and Queenston Oak.

Please note that pricing will be adjusted on these items around or before this time.
